Kaish.Bahar@thesgroup.com

Mumbai: Lodha Group, listed as Macrotech Developers, expects to enter into tie-ups to undertake joint development projects with a combined gross development value of ₹15,000 crore in the current financial year.

Of this, the company has already entered into three such partnerships in the January quarter to jointly develop projects worth over $1 million sq ft area with a gross development value of nearly ₹6,200 crore.

"On the back of strong attractiveness of our brand to land owners and therefore a robust pipeline of JDAs, we expect to add new projects with a combined GGV of around ₹15,000 crore in FY23," said Anshuk Lodha, MD & CEO, Macrotech Developers. Macrotech Developers has reported 100% year growth in net profit adjusted for forex for the quarter ended June at ₹355 crore on the back of 19% rise in pre-sales at ₹2,814 crore.

The developer has recorded a 33% rise in collections at ₹2,488 crore with 0.7% increase in revenue from operations at ₹2,676 crore.

"This was our best first quarter with ₹2,814 crore of pre-sales from our India business. We have not yet seen any impact on housing demand from quality developers," Lodha said. Over the medium and long term, driven by good wage growth, increase in the relevance of housing to the family after Covid, and consolidation of supply with high-credibility developers, Lodha believes that the housing industry in India is in a structural upcycle. During the quarter, the company has continued to see robust reduction in debt of around ₹450 crore to ₹5,056 crore. With this continued momentum in debt reduction, its average cost of funds has declined to 10.1% at end of June from 10.5% at end of the previous quarter, in spite of the broader increase in interest rates.
